

TAMMANY OWNS
NEW YORK NOW

Seth Low Was Defeated
for the Mayoralty
by a Big Majority Yesterday.

OHIO IS NOW SAVED

Senator Hanna Will Have
Over a Hundred Clear
Majority on Joint Ballot.

Republican governors were chosen in three states—Ohio, Iowa and Massachusetts. In Kentucky the Democratic candidate was successful. In Maryland, where the result will determine the future of Senator Gorman, advantage is believed to be with the Democrats. In that state the long ticket and scratching caused a great delay in the count. Rhode Island is in doubt, and is claimed by both parties.

Tammany is Successful.
Tammany scored an overwhelming victory over the fusion forces in Greater New York, where the fight was considered doubtful. The overthrow of Mayor Low is interpreted as an open declaration by the voting body of that city that "reform" administration is unsuccessful. McClellan's plurality is over 61,000.

The Republican successes in the gubernatorial fight carry with them substantial victories in the state legislative districts, entailing added Republican strength in the national senate and house of representatives.

Ohio is Republican.
It was in Ohio that the Republicans made one of the hardest fights in political history. The Republicans rolled up a majority in the gubernatorial fight of considerably more than 100,000, and Senator Hanna will have on joint ballot for re-election a majority of more than a hundred votes.

Iowa Re-elects Cummins.
In Iowa Gov. Cummins was successful by a plurality of about 50,000, which is in the neighborhood of 33,000 below the vote by which he won his previous election.

Gov. Bates of Massachusetts, though elected by a good majority, lost Boston because of local issues.

In New Jersey the Republicans clinched a majority in both houses of the legislature. In Nebraska the Republicans are victorious, and also in Colorado.

The Democratic candidates won in Mississippi, where the result was only doubtful as to the size of the Democratic pluralities.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER
WITNESS IN FEUD CASE

Assassins in Ambush Fire at Capt.
Ewen, Who Testified Against Curtis and Jett.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 4.—Under the cloak of the election excitement an attempt was made to kill Capt. Belvin J. Ewen, the chief witness in the feud trial at Jackson last August.

Twelve shots were fired at Ewen from a blind alley as he passed along the dark end of Walnut street. One went through his hat and another through the lapel of his coat, but he was not wounded. He was walking with Judge W. H. Mann, at whose home he is stopping, and the judge had just crossed the alley in front of Ewen when the firing began.

Ever since he testified that Curtis Jett and Thomas White had murdered James B. Marcum in the door of the courthouse at Jackson, Capt. Ewen has been regarded as a marked man. His sensational participation in the feud that had stirred breathless county for a score of years aroused the bitterest hatred of him, and his hotel was burned and he and his family driven from Jackson before the trial of Jett and White was begun.

When Marcum was shot from behind, Capt. Ewen stood by his side. Knowing the conditions in the town, he feared to make a statement for a long time, but at length declared that Jett and White were the assassins. He at once left Jackson to save his life, and when he returned to the trial he was hidden in a chest in a baggage car, fearing that he would be killed on the road. While in the town he remained under military escort, but his testimony was the one thing that sealed the fate of Jett and White. He left Jackson after the trial and has carefully remained away from there ever since.

KING AIDING IN CONSUMPTION WAR

Sanitarium Given by Sir
Edward Curcell.

London, Nov. 4.—King Edward in the presence of several thousand people today laid the foundation stone of the King Edward VII. consumption sanitarium at Midhurst, Sussex, for the erection of which Sir Ernest Cassel gave the king $1,000,000. The king said that he decided to spend the donation on an open-air establishment in the hope of arresting the malady and advancing knowledge on a matter of such infinite importance. Fresh air and sunshine were necessary, and the sanitarium would provide accommodation for people of slender means.

PANAMA REVOLUTION IS QUIET

Word Has Been Received From
There to That Effect—No Trouble Feared.

[Special By Scripps-McLae.]
Washington, Nov. 4.—Early this morning a cablegram was received from the commander of the gunboat Nashville, now at Colon, Colombia, which was immediately translated and taken to President Roosevelt, after a brief consultation between the army and navy officers. The contents of the dispatch will be kept a secret for the present. Although the officials of the navy departments refuse to discuss the situation, it is known they are of the opinion the Panama revolution will be entirely successful. It is understood orders are to be sent to the American naval commanders in the isthmian waters to prevent the transportation of armed Colombian troops across the isthmus.

At Scene of Battle

Panama, Nov. 4.—Up to a late hour this morning the work of the revolutionists was proceeding speedily with out any undue excitement or bloodshed. It was announced this morning the first steps in the formation of the new government would occur today when the consuls who are to take charge of the government are to be elected. Slight excitement was caused by the government gunboat Bogota, the only one of the three government gunboats which remained in the harbor after the announcement of independence. The Bogota tried to use moral force to subdue the uprising, but no attention was paid. Then they fired four shots over the town, one talking effect. No casualties resulted. The gunboat Padilla, manned by the insurgents, then chased the Bogota out of the harbor. The reports received here this morning state the same conditions exist in Colon as here.

The Pacific squadron, lying off Acapulco, Mexico, has received orders from Washington to be in readiness to leave at once for Panama in case the necessity arises.

Later Report
The state department received a cablegram this morning announcing the bombardment of Panama. It says one Chinaman was killed. The consul at Panama was immediately instructed to remonstrate with Colombian government. The state department informed the revolutionary movement is general throughout all Colombia.

GRAND JURY INDICTS
FOURTEEN FOR RIOTING

They Are Charged With Complicity
in Lynching of Negro Teacher at Belleville.

Belleville, Ill., Nov. 4.—Eugene Hay, nephew of County Judge John B. Hay and a prominent society man, appeared voluntarily in the office of Sheriff Thompson and surrendered under an indictment brought by the St. Clair county grand jury charging him with complicity in the lynching of David F. Wyatt. He furnished bond for $200 promptly and was not arrested.

He says his indictment is the result of a mistake. He declares that he took no part in the lynching or in any of the occurrences that led up to it. George Schopp was the first to be arrested under the indictments, which are supposed to be against fourteen men. He was arrested and taken to jail to await his release on bond.

The arrest of William Weimling, Henry Henry and Albert Weber, laborers, on the same charge, quickly followed. Ten of the fourteen persons who were indicted for participating in the lynching of Wyatt, the negro school teacher, were arrested and all gave bail of $200 each. The prisoners are charged with rioting. Those under arrest are: George Schopp, laborer; William Delminger, molder; Henry Harney, teamster; Eugene Hay, clerk; Albert Weber, laborer; John Edeldeer, plumber; Julius Schwind, blacksmith; Frank Schilling, plater; Mathias Weiss, miner, and John Wreckling, miner.

The Rothschilds claimed that their firm was impersonal, being neither Jew nor gentile. The case was carried through all the Russian courts to the senate. The oil fields shortly will be placed on sale again, and it is expected the Standard Oil company will bid against a German syndicate.

EXPECTS FREEDOM

President Roosevelt Is Said to Favor the Movement—
Held a Consultation
Last Night.

Panama, Colombia, Nov. 4.—The independence of the Isthmus of Panama was declared at 6 o'clock Monday evening.

A new republic has been proclaimed. Gov. Obaldia and all the Panama officials, together with Gens. Tovar and Amayo, are prisoners.

The Colombian cruisers in the harbor have been seized. The army is captive. All public buildings are in the hands of the provisional government of the new republic.

Overthrow Is Popular.
There has been some fighting, in which the insurgents have been uniformly successful.

Three thousand armed men took part in the uprising. The movement is everywhere on the isthmus received with the greatest enthusiasm. The revolution is supported by men of all parties.

ROOSEVELT ACTS.

United States Vessels Are Ordered to Protect American Interests.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The news of the revolution in Panama caused a hurried conference at the White House between President Roosevelt and his advisers. The president summoned Secretary Hay, Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling, and Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of navigation.

After a two hours' conference orders were dispatched to the cruisers Dixie and the Atlanta on the Atlantic side, and the Boston on the Pacific coast, to proceed with all possible speed to Isthmian waters to aid the Nashville in protecting American interests and maintaining a free transit across the isthmus in accordance with the treaty of 1846.

Prepare Other Ships.

Orders also were sent to Rear Admiral Glass, commanding the Pacific squadron, consisting of the cruisers Concord, Marblehead and Wyoming, at Acapulco, to coal immediately and hold itself in readiness to proceed on a moment's notice to Panama.

When the cruiser Baltimore reaches San Domingo orders will be cabled to go to the Isthmus.

The most explicit instructions are being cabled to the American consuls at Panama and Colon and to the commander of the Dixie, who will be in charge of the vessels on the Atlantic side.

The further statement was authorized that the state department regards the situation as serious.

Cause of Revolution.
Dr. Thomas Herran, Colombian charge d'affaires, attributes the revolution to the intense desire on the part of the people of the Isthmus for the construction of the canal, and on this account feels that the movement is more serious than all attempted revolutions heretofore.

Dr. Herran does not expect speedy recognition by the United States of a government formed at Panama, but realizes that this government will keep the transit open on the railway and may find it necessary in so doing to support any government in the city of Panama that is in control.

Sympathy for Panama.
The state of Panama has a population of about 250,000 people. There has been some sympathy with Panama and a trend toward independence of those states west of the mountains on the Pacific side and bordering on the Caribbean sea on the Atlantic side.

According to late estimates there are less than 1,000 government troops in the state of Panama at the present time. These are, according to the dispatches, prisoners, but the government has 50,000 troops under arms in the interior and on the western coast, and these can be moved by transports to Panama or vicinity, but could not be sent overland.

To Deepen Canals.

New York, Nov. 4.—The latest returns indicate that the canal proposition to widen and deepen the state canals to admit of the passage of 1,000-ton barges has been carried by a majority of about 175,000.

Congressman Loses Vote.

FIRST EVENING MEETING OF THE SOCIAL UNION HELD LAST EVENING

INTERESTING TALKS WERE GIVEN BY THE MANY SPEAKERS WHO WERE ON THE PROGRAM.

ALDERMAN A. E. MATHESON ACTED AS THE LEADER

Session Held in the Y. M. C. A. Building—An Excellent Supper Was Served—Seventy Members of the Club Were Present—Work for Year Outlined by the Committee

What constitutes success and the contributing factors that enter into it, was the subject for the first interesting discussion before the Social Union club at its first meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. building last evening. Over seventy members partook of the generous banquet that preceded the exposition in concrete form of this rather abstract subject.

Purpose of the Club
 Attorney A. E. Matheson, who acted as leader of the evening, congratulated the organization on the auspicious beginning of its second session and expressed the hope that it was destined to become a permanent factor in the life of the city of Janesville. The exchange of thought and ideas was beneficial to all and through the medium of the short addresses one learned how to best express himself for the benefit of others. The social feature was to be emphasized, because as members mingled with one another they learned to appreciate the good qualities and minimize the disagreeable in friends, and thus became mutually helpful. In order that the decks might be cleared for action the reports of committees would be called for before the discussion of the evening should be taken up.

The Year's Program
 Chairman Richardson of the program committee announced the following subjects for discussion at the meetings to be held during the forthcoming season:

December—Makers of Our Institutions.
 January—Science Night.
 February—Municipal Affairs.
 March—Prospective Presidential Candidates.

April—How Can Janesville Be Made an Ideal City?
 Mr. Jackson was chosen as leader of the December meeting.

"The Elements of Success"
 J. A. Craig, general manager of the Janesville Machine Co., was the first speaker of the evening. His subject was "Getting on in Business." Every man must have a good foundation in some business to get on with. A large proportion of men drift into business. We see very few around us that deliberately set down and figured out their future. A young man wants a position and finds an opening in a drug store or a machine shop and after he has learned the trade may leave it or make it a life work. Certain things are necessary to its conduct after he has taken it up. He must be systematic and he must be agreeable in his business dealings. He must know his business.

Knowledge of Two Kinds
 How is a man in a large business to know it all? Well, knowledge is of two kinds: We know the subject ourselves or we know where we can find the information at once. While the business is growing up it must be organized so that one may keep in touch with all the details. Commercial agencies say that the largest proportion of failures of business concerns are to be attributed to the speculative spirit. Lack of capital comes second in the list of important causes and dishonesty is third. One of the greatest difficulties the business world has to contend with now is the speculative spirit. There is not a careful, conservative concern now but what is scrutinizing its credits a little more closely than it did at this time last year.

 I was told the other day by a business man of Janesville that in the past three years over $200,000 has been taken out of this city to be put into rubber plantations, gold mines, oil wells, and other similar schemes. There is a temptation to take money out of one's business and endeavor to realize more quickly on some speculative venture. Yet few really good propositions have to be begged for capital, for in most cases they are taken up by men on the ground. The cornerstone of every business is honesty, integrity, and truthfulness. "Any business built on bluff overhangs a dangerous abyss." The best business maxims are the ten left by Moses. One can not follow to the line any better than by following them. Success in any line means that someone must lose and die, but more than this he must be honest and sincere in his dealings with the world.

"Professional Attainments"
 Attorney O. A. Oestreich spoke next on "Professional Attainments." He did not think much was to be gained by sermonizing—by saying trite things such as "Honesty is the best policy." It was difficult to resolve into its elements a successful life, because in so doing one must determine the destinies and provinces of man. Infallible rules of conduct cannot be laid down because contingencies, accidents, and opportunities play a large part in the lives and achievements of most men. When a great man was asked the secret of success he answered that there was no secret—it was dig, dig, dig. The man in the ranks who does his duty cheerfully in the face of adversity is called "reputation" in this world, or not. Hard work is the first element, Edison said that the invention of the phonograph was to be attributed to 99 per cent. hard work and two per cent. genius; and when he was asked if genius was inspiration he answered: "No, it is perspiration." Bourke Cochran in an address to a body of law students resolved the elements of success into honesty, industry and reasonable ability. To this for the man who with feigned self-abasement attempts to gain our good graces. Versatility, intelligent interest in many of the world's activities besides our own, means influence. President Roosevelt was cited as an example of the versatile, well-rounded man.

Some Over-Versatile
 Justice Reader made an interesting point in this connection. In their conversation with other men, in their speeches, he thought some men were over-versatile. They said too much and left too little to be thought out. Preachers often preach a subject out to its logical conclusion and demonstrate a problem until there is not a single thing left for anyone to go home and think about. Speaking of education, some have few opportunities to secure it, and do not avail themselves of the few that do offer themselves. They confine themselves too closely to the work they have at hand. They miss things occurring every day on the street, that might afford instruction and useful lessons—things that would give more hours of close application to study.

A Valid Excuse
 Mr. Taylor suggested that Justice Reader had given a perfectly satisfactory excuse for going asleep in church on the preceding Sunday. He wished to ask the club members if anyone thought a lawyer could listen to all that a minister had to say and be prosperous. Attorney Nolan was called on to answer this question but said that he did not brag much as a usual thing, but in this instance he felt like quoting the words of a Tammany orator on the issue of reform in New York: "For honesty, integrity and reform we bate the devil, so we do." "As lawyers," said Mr. Nolan, "we try to beat the devil. And when the ministers get tired of beating the devil they jump on the lawyers."

Drive at Lawyers
 Another member of the club then rose to tell a story of a woman who wished her boy to be educated for the law because at the age of five he was an accomplished liar, at six he was a sassy and impertinent, and at seven he would stand anything he could lay his hands on.

Character Building
 Rev. Richard Vaughan gave a very interesting and polished address on "Character Building." A great scientist had said that when the world was destroyed at the last there would be two things left—ashes and character. That was a mistake—there would be only one thing left—character. A great German poet had said that talent was developed in the solitude, but character in the stream of life. Every time the grocer weighs his pound of sugar he is weighing himself in the balance—he is adding or subtracting from his life. A man does not turn aside from his business to form his character. The two forces that are concerned in its building are association and work. By association we mean the personalities of the people about us whom we choose to admire. The man building a lofty character must be deep in his personal associations. The man who is earnest, industrious, work is forming a great character. Charles Dudley Warner said a boy never learned much that had not had a liberal education in chores. Sincerity is one's intellectual life, will-power, temper, and supreme unselfishness were other contributing factors in character building. Senator Beveridge said that every young man should each day do some act for which he expects to return. If he would do this he would come to exert an influence and power over his fellow men beyond the power of analysis.

Recommendations
 Rev. Henderson said that men would find success in this rushing age by being able to find some diversion—some hobby in which they could lose themselves. Gen. Harrison found diversion in teaching a Sunday school class. His example offered a good suggestion. The man who could take the mischief-making boys off the street, impart something to them that would hold their attention would at once find diversion and an opportunity for his own character building.

WAGE WAR ON HUGE DOG FISH

Many of the Tribes in Lake Koshkonong—Game Warden Seizes Nets.

Peter Drafiel, deputy game warden, has made a big haul in the way of an extensive professional fisherman's outfit in Lake Winnebago. The seizure consisted of a boat and twenty-four nets and the amount of the capture footed up to a big sum and will be a severe loss to the owners. The task of sealing Lake Koshkonong of carp and dogfish is being pushed with all possible speed. The work will be continued as long as weather permits and it is hoped that the task of clearing out the worthless fish can continue for some time. The quantities of carp they expected but are making large hauls of dogfish. The latter are immediately killed. Some of these are of immense size, a few tipping the scales at fifty pounds.

The men in charge of the operations believe that the destruction of these slothful specimens of the finny tribe will be a great help towards improving the game fishing in the lake. Many game fish are scooped up every time the huge nets are brought to the surface but those are released without being touched. They do not mix with the other two varieties and when an end of the net is lowered below the surface, the game kinds seek safety in flight while the carp and dog fish stay in the lower folds of the seine.

Yesterday Tom Johnson once more found out that he also ran.

BADGER ACREAGE HAS INCREASED

FIFTY THOUSAND ACRES PLANTED TO TOBACCO THIS YEAR

A VALUE OF EIGHT MILLION

Dangers From Curing Are Past—Tobacco Men Enthusiastic Over Prospect.

As a whole, the new tobacco crop was gathered in fair condition. The weather has continued favorable for curing and all danger of shed damage is now past. The acreage this year shows considerable increase. There are nearly 50,000 acres under cultivation, with an estimated value of $8,000,000. There has been but little movement in the new crop. The large operators have ceased buying, and in many cases have transferred their attention to old stock in grower's hands. There have been one or two large transactions in 1902 leaf, one firm having taken 2,500 cases. Besides these, there have been some sales of 1901. On the whole the leaf market shows a better feeling.

Trading in Good.
 Trading in the market continues active, particularly in Wisconsin and Pennsylvania leaf. Although the week which has just come to a close does not record very bulky transactions, the aggregate figures are quite a considerable amount. Prices for Wisconsin seem to have a rising tendency; one lot of 300 cases being sold running for 20 cents. It is nearly a generation since Wisconsin tobacco commanded such figures, and at such figures a generation ago, Wisconsin was used as a wrapper leaf while today these prices are being paid for its use as binder only. Prices for the Pennsylvania do not take any where near such a jump, but the leaf is in great demand and is being stocked up by manufacturers for hoarding, more than any other type. For wrapper leaf the Sumatra holds its unrivaled position. Its use is being extended daily more and more and its sales have become a steady feature of the market.

Average of Sales.
 The average sales per week are running now between four and five hundred bales. The Havana market too does not show any signs of exhaustion; in fact most of the Havana leaf is being held now in this country. It is therefore easily explained why old Remedios can be had much cheaper in this market than in Havana. But importers seem to have possessed the foresight of a good quilter earlier in the season, a good share of the new crop of Vuelta and other are consequently in a position to satisfy nearly all of the demands of our clear Havana cigar industry which is growing so phenomenally.

New England Crop.
 In New England, the reports from the various sections go to show that the total crop is somewhat below the average. The acreage sown was not quite so large as last year, and the yield per acre is considerably lighter. On the other hand, except from the damage from hail in the earlier part of the season, the crops were unusually sound and clean when cut having suffered practically no damage from worms or insects. Conditions have been entirely favorable to the curing, and the leaf is said to be particularly good in quality and color.

Reiff's Rapid Decline

No Longer a Winning Jeckey,
Johnny Will Return
Abroad.

During the progress of a race at a recent Chicago meeting a man rushed into the press stand and loudly proclaimed he would bet even money that Jockey Johnny Reiff, who was riding Hargis, the favorite, would be cut off at the far turn. The horses came to the turn as he offered the wager. For an instant Hargis threatened to get through, but in another instant was cut off, quickly fell to the last position and, despite a fine stretch run, was beaten.

The incident, thrilling in itself, tells the story of the downfall of a rider who had won plaudits and a fortune on the foreign turf and made a forced return to his native country to find only a meager salary and ridicule awaiting him.

Little Johnny Reiff gathered all the glory and all the money that an American rider could hope for on the English turf. After years of successes and flattery he migrated under necessity to France and captured the followers of races in Paris. His name was flashed over the cable lines between America and Europe almost every day for years. Newsboys on this side of the water made the cry, "Reiff rides the winner of the Two Thousand Guineas," or some other race, a stock boom for selling papers. Royalty paid him respect in England, and he was no less honored in France. Then came the return to America. That a prophet is not without honor save in his own country proved equally true of a rider.

Despite the ban of the French Jockey club, Reiff secured a license from the Western Jockey club and signed to ride for Edward Corrigan for a comparatively small salary.

People rushed to back Reiff in his first few mounts. They thought him invincible. He lost and lost again, and as his followers dropped their money their confidence in the rider waned. Day after day he lost lengths and lengths on the turns, and those losses defeated his mounts. Where the crowd expected to admire it came to doubt, then to distrust and finally to ridicule.

In the face of the ridicule John A. Drake announced his belief that Reiff was the greatest rider that ever threw a leg over a horse. One day last spring at Harlem (Chicago) Reiff tossed off a victory he should have earned on High Chancellor, and it cost Drake thousands of dollars. Still the Chicago turfman, who had won money on the boy in England, stuck to the little rider. Others prominent in turf affairs defended him, but he continued to lose the confidence of the public.

A fall at Harlem shortly before the Derby put him out of the running and into a hospital for weeks. He had the sympathy of turfmen. He recovered and returned to the saddle, and his work was even worse. He won few races.

Reiff will now return to the country where he can gain more in a day than he can here in a week. He has a fair chance of reinstatement, and he will go back to the scene of success.

With Reiff, who is still young and small, it is a case of accepting mediocrity in America or premiership in France. He chooses the latter and will leave America at the first opportunity. He can still ride at 110 pounds, a weight that is large for Chicago race tracks, where secretaries are addicted to low weights, but about right for a jockey abroad.

Waterbury and Blues.

Larry Waterbury, the famous polo player, who purchased Blues for $3,500 at Frank Farrell's wedding out sale, is going to endeavor to make a jumper out of the good but somewhat erratic son of Sir Dixon. The low price the horse brought suggests his racing days are over, but should he stand a preparation and take kindly to the game he is just the sort to make a champion chaser, as he not only carries weight, but has a phenomenal turn of speed.

George Dixon Wants to Fight.

George Dixon, who has not done any fighting to speak of since he was defeated by "Spike" Robson, is after a contest with Harry Ware. Ware is the boxer who came here from England about three years ago with Jim Jeffries. A club in Birmingham, England, is ready to give the pair a purse as soon as the fight is arranged.

WITH LINK AND PIN.

North-Western Road
The heavy bank of fog that enshrouded Janesville last night was not a local disturbance but extended over an area of many miles. Railroad traffic was somewhat hindered by it as messages were flashed over the wires of both the North-Western and St. Paul lines advising engineers to move with extreme caution, safety being the first importance. No accidents occurred.

The Italian track laborers who live in the two box car cabins between the tracks in the North-Western yards are lonesome since the departure for Italy last Sunday of "Jerry" and "Joe" Serra. The early Monday morning washing-bee and the preparation of the macaroni have ceased to be interesting occupations. For "The Triumph" and his brother were the life of the little colony.

Railway Clerks held a very interesting meeting in the new Trades Council hall in Beloit last night. The next meeting will be held in Janesville, the third Thursday of this month.

The carpenter, blacksmith, and machine shops are busy with the blueprints of the sand-house machinery these days. It is expected that the drums, blowers, and other paraphernalia will be completed by next Monday and sent to Harvard at that time.

Engineer Riddell went to Crystal Lake this morning.

St. Paul Road.
James Young, travelling passenger agent for the Great Northern, was a visitor at the depot last night.

A steady increase in the passenger business over the St. Paul is reported, the traffic westward being particularly large. The reports show a large increase over last year's record.

Night Operator Clough is enjoying a visit from his father, George Clough, of Mazomanie.

George R. Thompson, travelling passenger agent for the Pennsylvania line, with headquarters at Milwaukee is in the city looking after the company's business today.

T. C. Eldredge, superintendent of the Prairie du Chien division, was at the depot this morning.

Engineer Warren and Fireman Meade have gone on the Mineral Point passenger run in place of Engineer Whalen and Fireman Jones who are laying off.

Owing to the increase in freight business a fifth freight crew consisting of Conductor Brennan, and Brake men Alcock and Wren were "put in the ring" last night.

Notes of the Railroads

H. O. Halstead, formerly agent of the Pere Marquette road at Toledo, has been appointed division superintendent in charge of the Toledo division of the road.

Rate clerks of the western roads were in session yesterday making a thorough revision of the short-line rate tariffs. The revision has been made necessary by changes in the mileage of different roads and also by the change in interchangeable mileage on the western roads which will go into effect Dec. 1.

President Charles S. Mellen formally assumed his office as the head of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad yesterday and said he had no policy, except as one might be developed as the result of investigations. He said he intended bringing no one from the outside until all material at present employed by the road had been exhausted.

The Reading company issued an order yesterday that the track repairmen and other employees of the roadway department would hereafter work but nine hours a day. They had been working ten hours. They were also informed that a reduction of 1½ cents an hour would be made in their wages. The loss of the hour and the reduction will make a difference of 28½ cents a day in their pay. In some sections of the coal regions, according to reports received in Reading, the men quit work.

Wine of Cardui can always be relied upon to cure when everything else fails. It is a certain cure for female diseases in their worst forms. I suffered for years with ulceration. Intense pains in the womb and ovaries and dreadful headaches afflicted me for my work. Finally I grew so ill that I had to keep to my bed. The pains were so intense at times as to cause spasms and a disagreeable discharge drained my life force. In my extremity after all else had failed, I tried Wine of Cardui. After using it for two weeks I began to improve so rapidly that I felt encouraged to keep up the treatment, which I did for eighteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was entirely cured. What a relief was mine and how new and beautiful life looked to me when my health was restored. Only those who have passed through such a siege of sickness as I have will understand how much I value Wine of Cardui. It is indeed a boon to sick women.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF CANALS

The decision of the Supreme Court holding that federal jurisdiction extends over the inland canals the same as over other navigable waters, is of larger significance than might seem at first glance.

If the federal government has jurisdiction over canals, built and situated entirely within a state, as, for instance, the Erie canal, then it follows that these artificial waterways should become the object of national care and expense. Their improvement should be a burden, not upon the state in which they are situated, but upon the whole country. As the nation spends millions of dollars upon the enlargement of rivers and harbors, so it should, appropriate large sums on such canals as would justify such expenditure.

This statement is made with no intention of obscuring the canal issue which is now before the people of New York. The Wall Street Journal is in favor of the proposition to enlarge the canal on the plan now presented. It may be that improvement is not as complete as is desirable, and that instead of a 1,000-ton barge canal we should have a ship canal, so large as to reduce the competition of the Canadian canals to a minimum. It is clear also that the duty of adequate improvements of the Erie canal rests with the national government, and this decision makes it plain that as the federal jurisdiction extends over the canal the national government would be strictly within the scope of its responsibility if it took up the project of a ship canal between the great lakes and New York city. Certainly such a canal would be of as much benefit to the rest of the country as to New York.

But this consideration is no argument for voting against the project of improvement by the state. The great thing to be assured is the improvement of the canal which is so essential to the commerce of the port. The canal was built by the state, and it is entirely proper for the state to enlarge it. The proposed improvement, while not so desirable as a ship canal, would at least bring the waterway up somewhere near modern requirements. To wait for the nation to take up the ship canal project would, it is likely, be equivalent to waiting for two or three decades. There would be immense opposition in other parts of the country to federal appropriations for the Erie canal. Instead of waiting years for the nation to do something, let the state itself take hold of the project and do the best it can.

BOOTS AND SHOES

The popularity of American boots and shoes in other countries is illustrated by a Berlin letter to the London Commercial Intelligence, a leading trade paper of England. It says that "the importation of American boots and shoes into Germany is steadily on the increase. In 1900 they constituted over 4 per cent of the entire imports of this class, in 1902 nearly 10 per cent, and during the first half of the current year more than 14 per cent."

This statement regarding the growth in the popularity of American boots and shoes abroad is sustained by some figures just presented by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, and also by reports from consuls which reach that Department and Bureau, both from Germany and other parts of the world. The exports of boots and shoes to Germany alone in the fiscal year 1903 amounted to $337,093, against $197,937 in 1902, $79,578 in 1899, $15,368 in 1897, and less than $1,000 in the year prior to 1894.

The figures of growth of exports of boots and shoes to Germany during the past decade are so striking as to justify publication in detail. The statement which follows shows the total number of pairs and total value of boots and shoes exported to Germany in each year from 1893 to 1903:

Boots and shoes exported to Germany, 1893 to 1903.

Year.	Pairs.	Value.
1893	505	$ 767

1895	1,676	2,422
1896	4,417	7,321

1902	122,679	197,937
1903	189,193	337,093

To other countries the growth in exports of boots and shoes have been equally rapid. To the United Kingdom the number increased from 1,507 pairs in 1892 to over 1 million pairs in 1903, and the value from a little over $2,000 in 1892 to over 2 millions in 1903. Of the nearly 4 million pairs of boots and shoes exported in 1902, about 1 1/4 millions went to Europe, over one-half to Australia, nearly one-half million to Mexico, nearly one-half million to Cuba, about 200 thousand to Canada, and about 200 thousand to Africa.

It was not until 1896 that the exportation of boots and shoes from the United States reached as much as 1 million pairs. In 1903 they were over 4 million pairs, valued at over 6 1/2 million dollars. The table which follows shows the total exports of boots and shoes from the United States from 1893 to 1903:

Year.	Pairs.	Value.

In all manufactures of leather there has been, and is, a continuous and rapid growth in exports. The total value of leather and its manufactures exported in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, was over 31 million dollars, against 12 millions in the fiscal year 1893, 8 millions in 1883, and 5 1/4 millions in 1873. The table which follows shows the total value of leather and its manufactures exported from 1893 to 1903:

PRESS COMMENT.

St. Louis Post Dispatch: Burdette, the humorist, is to be the pastor of a $1,000,000 church in Los Angeles, Cal. Possibly church attendance would be greatly increased if other humorists could be persuaded to accept pulpits.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Mr. Bryan has been accused of using hypnotic influence to induce his friend, the late Philo S. Bennett, of Connecticut, to leave him $50,000 in his will. Mr. Bryan was not enough of a hypnotist, however, to get a majority of the voters of this country to support him in his aspirations for the presidency.

Superior Telegram: It is now unsafe to write in the morning for publication in the afternoon who is king or queen of the turf. If you do, you won't hit it. One can say who was yesterday and that he don't know who is today or who will be tomorrow.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Labor union men can learn much to their advantage by watching closely the account of the trail of Mr. Sam Parks who, like the celebrated Richard Croker, worked for his pocket all the time.

Chicago Chronicle: It would be refreshing if not edifying to hear the freedom of speech of the socialist "social settlements" employed to promote respect for the constitution and laws of the United States, for purity of home life and self restraint.

Chicago Record Herald: The Indianapolis News says: "Of the strikes in Great Britain last year 36,917 were successful, 35,615 unsuccessful and 41,645 accepted compromise." According to these figures the workmen in Great Britain must keep almost as busy as they do here in Chicago.

ILL BEHAVED COWS

Town Of Lima Farmers Confuse Property, Too Many Trades

Make A Law-suit.

Who owns which cow? That is the question which troubled Albert Dixon and Frank Buchholz, two town of Lima farmers, and troubled them to such an extent that twelve picked men in Justice Reeder's court were necessary to decide the matter this afternoon. The men own farms adjoining and among their other possessions each had two cows. They decided to trade the gentle brutes and the plaintiff to give five dollars to boot. This was paid to the defendant. The cows disliked their new quarters and all four jumped fences to regain their respective stalls. This complicated matters so that the agriculturists agreed to trade back. This was done. Then the plaintiff advised with his neighbor, saying that he, the defendant, ought to have one of the animals and declaimed on the virtues of the beast, which he offered for forty dollars. Frank Buchholz, the defendant, did not see things that way and did not want the extra milking machine. The plaintiff claimed, however, that the cow was bought on his suggestion.

The defendant's story was that two cows were to be traded for one and that there was forty dollars to boot. That five dollars of the amount was paid and that the remainder was still due.

Further arguments so confused the two tillers of the soil that they did not know which owned which cows, which had or ought to have the forty dollars or whether each owned one, two, three or four bovines. It was a mixed problem and the question of "How old is Ann?" was not "in it" with their cow proposition. The case was being argued this afternoon and the question of who owns which cow will be decided by disinterested parties.

CHIT CHAT FROM SOCIAL CIRCLES

SCHUMAN CLUB GAVE CHARMING MUSICAL TUESDAY EVENING.

WILL PURCHASE DUNBAR HOME

Mrs. J. H. Warren and Daughters to Return to Janesville to Re-side—Personal Gossip.

Last evening the members of the Schumann club gave a musical in the parlors of the Grand Hotel. The rooms had been transformed into a scene of beauty and the recital by Miss Della Thal of Chicago was all that could be asked from a musical standpoint. Miss Thal has a delightful and sympathetic touch and her playing was of the most finished style. Her rendering of the beautiful passages of Chopin and Schumann masterpieces evoked repeated applause from the select audience who were fortunate enough to hear her. So entranced were the assembled guests that at the close of the programme Miss Thal was forced to an encore. One remarkable feature of the playing was that through out the entire difficult program Miss Thal did not use her notes but played entirely from memory. The program follows:

Schumann, Sonata, Opus 22, G. Minor; So Rasch Wie Mogleich; Andantino; Scherzo; Rondo.
Chopin, Preludes, Op. 28, Nos. 20, 23. Nocturne, Opus 32, No. 2; Ballade, Opus 23.
Ed. Smunt, Carnaval Mignonno, 1. Prelude, 2. Serenade D'Arlequin, 3. Tristesse De Colombine, 4. Polichinelle, 5. Pierrot Reveur, 6. Caprice Sganarelle.
Mac Dowell, Woodland Sketches, Opus 51. To a Wild Rose; In Autumn. To a Water Lily.
Strauss-Tansig, "Man Lebt Nur Einmal," (valse caprice).

Mrs. J. H. Warren and three daughters who formerly resided in Janesville will come back to Janesville to make their home. Negotiations are now pending for the purchase of the residence of the late Mrs. Dunbar, No. 3 Cornelia street, and will without doubt be completed within a day or two. The late Dr. Warren was well known in Janesville many years ago and the return of the family to Janesville to make their home will be welcome news to their many friends. They have recently made their home in Waukesha.

FENCING CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED

Project Started To Have A Class At Y. M. C. A. Interest Taken In Plan.

A fencing class is under consideration in Y. M. C. A. circles and the indications are that it will be very successful, judging from the interest taken in the plan. The class is not as yet organized but the subject is under consideration by a few who like the sport. Mr. Ward, the physical director, J. E. Kline, Ed. Bailey and Mr. Beers are the men at the head of the idea. If a sufficient membership can be arranged for the procuring of the fells and guards necessary, there is little doubt but that the class will soon be a feature in the Y. M. C. A. work.

WILL REMODEL FOR OFFICE BUILDING

Goodwin Property in Beloit Will Be Improved, and Used as a Business Block.

The famous Goodwin House in Beloit which has sheltered transients for so many years will never again be opened to receive them as it is the plan of the owners to remodel the structure as an office building. Bradley and Carpenter, the Rockford architects are at work on the plans and it is expected that they will be finished and ready for the contractors in the course of a few weeks. Cunningham Bros., of Beloit, have the contract for the work. It is said, and Mrs. Fife will expend $15,000 in alterations and improvements. The interior of the building will be entirely remodeled and there will be seventy-five up-to-date offices. The fact that at least one new hotel is assured for the Line City, and that there is no office block had much to do with the change of plans. This will leave the new hotel free from competition and will probably insure its financial success.

HIGH SCHOOL IN THE SEMI-FINALS

WILL PLAY IN THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP CONTESTS.

FT. ATKINSON HERE SATURDAY

Six Other Teams Are To Play the Rest of the Series for the Honor.

State championship honors seem to be hovering over the heads of the high school football players' heads. If they win their game on Saturday next from Ft. Atkinson they can claim the title of champions of southern Wisconsin and they will then have an opportunity to meet two or three of the best school teams in the northern part of the state to play for the championship of Wisconsin schools. This is the decision of the state athletic board which will from now on govern all contests which the Janesville players contest in. It means high athletic honors for the local school and both players and coach realize the significance attached to the coming games.

Final Findings

Last evening Mr. Buell received a letter from the chairman of the state athletic board that Janesville by its unbroken list of victories was placed on the list of seven teams throughout the state to play in the semi-finals for the state championship and that their next game would be with Ft. Atkinson on Saturday next. The other schools thus honored are Merrill, Kaukauna, Eau Claire, Marinette, Ft. Atkinson and Janesville. If Janesville wins its coming game on Saturday they will then play a northern team either here or at the other school's town on the 11th of November.

Strong Opponents

Ft. Atkinson is a strong opponent. They have not lost a game this season although they were tied by Whitewater, the team the Janesville players defeated last Saturday and they defeated Waukesha by a score of 63 to 6. The team is composed of strong aggressive players and the game promises to be as brisk a one as has been played by the locals this year. Last evening Mr. Buell telephoned to Ft. Atkinson and asked the team to come here for the game on Saturday. He received a favorable reply and also the announcement that two hundred rooters will accompany the team. This will add interest to the contest and the townspeople should turn out to aid the local team to victory by their encouragement.

Repudiates Story

Mr. Buell repudiates the story published in this morning's Milwaukee paper to the effect that the Janesville team is afraid to meet the South Side Milwaukee team. He says that the action of the state board has made this an impossibility and that with all probability the last side game scheduled for November 14 will be cancelled and a northern team substituted if the boys win Saturday's game.

Hard Work

It is probable that Paul Pratt and a Madison football expert will be the two officials for Saturday's game. Meantime the Janesville boys will put in a week of hard play and extra hard kicks will be given them by Coach Norris in getting them into shape for the coming contest.

Coming

NEW PARK ON RIVER ASSURED

Part of the Wixom Estate Has Been Leased, and Deal Surely Closed.

Five acres of land belonging to the Wixom estate, which is located three miles up the river have been leased to Captain Alex. Buchholz of this city for a term of years. The property is located near the Burr Springs, is directly on the bend of the river and is altogether an ideal place for a park.

It is Captain Buchholz's intention to improve the place in the early spring and erect suitable buildings. A good dock will be built so that the largest steamers can tie up alongside and the proprietor will operate the grounds in the interest only of the best class of people. That his venture will be successful is the wish of his many friends.

This deal has been pending for some time and it was only recently that details were definitely settled. Janesville will now have a upriver pleasure park that will be complete in every detail. If the place is run as it should be the use of the river as a place for an outing ought to be materially augmented.

CITIZENS' CLUB IS TALKED OF

RUMORS ARE TO THE EFFECT ONE IS BEING FORMED.

NOTHING DEFINITE IS KNOWN

Men Said To Be At The Head Of Move Deny All Knowledge Of Affair.

There is much talk about the city that there is a possibility of a club being formed by the business and professional men of the city and a clubhouse being fitted out with all the conveniences of a modern city club. The present plans are said to have gone as far as to look for a suitable building and several plans have been made for the interior decoration and fittings which are to include billiard tables, card tables, lounging rooms and buffet.

Promoters Prominent

While none of the gentlemen whose names are used as being promoters of the plan of the plan denied knowing of any definite plans having as yet been made, they all said they approved the move. One prominent gentleman said today: "Do not use my name but you can say that such a move has been contemplated for some time past and while I know nothing of the present plans I will say that the plan would meet with universal approval of the business men of Janesville. It has long been needed and I am glad to hear there is even a rumor of its becoming a reality."

Extensive Plans

One gentleman who refused to have his name used in connection with the plans said that he had been given to understand that forty prominent men had approved of the plan and that enough financial support had been promised to assure the success of the club when it was started. He said the present plans were to rent a house and to furnish it throughout with complete club fixtures including all the accessories of a city organization of like nature. Just where it would be located he did not know although he mentioned several sites which had been looked over.

ING NEWS

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, November 4, 1863.—A BRILLIANT UNION VICTORY—Copperheadism Buried.—The result of the election in this city yesterday was a most gratifying and brilliant Union victory. Copperheadism is buried so deep as to be harmless in the future.

To this result the meeting at the court room Monday evening, where Mat. Carpenter made a most able and effective speech, and Messrs. Sloan, Bennett, Williams and Mitchell gave efficient aid, largely contributed.

In the evening our office was filled with a rejoicing crowd until a late hour, listening to the glowing reports from those parts of the state, to which the glorious result in the city was only a prelude. Lewis' majority for governor 356. Richardson's majority for assembly 281. Tallman's majority for supervisor 329.

"OLD ROCK"—"Old Rock" has passed into a proverb in the politics of Wisconsin. In any calculations of political results, she has been relied upon to overcome the adverse majorities in Washington and Ozaukee counties, or to neutralize, to a great extent, the overwhelming vote of Milwaukee. She has never failed, and has not failed now. True to her traditional character and unquestioned fidelity, "Old Rock" now comes up, in her strength, to swell to a louder strain the glad notes of triumph resounding throughout the state.

The Voice of November!—New York, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Illinois and Kansas, respond to the voice of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Iowa. In each of these states the popular verdict in support of the government is unhesitating and unequivocal. In Missouri, the vote, as far as known, is encouraging and hopeful for the much abused "radicals." Massachusetts is all one way, that is the Union way! New York repudiates Seymourism by 20,000 majority. Wisconsin looks like having gone for the Union ticket over 10,000 on the home vote, to which her gallant soldiers in the field will add thousands! Illinois, in her local elections, wipes out copperheadism within her boundaries! Kansas gives 10,000 majority to the government which sustains and protects her!

The trial has been had and the verdict rendered. Now let the government issue and enforce the execution.

Coming Attractions.

"Down by the Sea", which will be seen at the Myers Grand Saturday, matinee and night is an unusually good play and the company presenting it is exceptionally strong. There is an absence of sensationalism, yet there is a distinct flavor of melodrama to the construction of the story. The situations are surprising but natural. The characters are unique but not exaggerated. The climaxes are thrilling but not overdrawn, and the play is carried along more by the story than by the tricks of the stage. The thread of the story which most attracts the attention relates to the jealousy of a man and his belief in the infidelity of his wife who in order to protect her father, who has committed a crime, from arrest, hides him in her bedroom. Her determination to conceal her father's crime from everyone including her husband, is innocently frustrated by their child, who tells the father of the strange man her mother kissed and hid in her bedroom. Rather than reveal the identity of her father and thus send him to prison for eighteen years, the wife permits her husband to believe her guilty. Incidents arise in which the wife establishes her innocence finally, and the play has a happy termination. There are many other incidents connected with the story that possesses great heart interest, and any of these are interesting enough and contain sufficient good material to make a good play in itself.

The tone of the play is ennobling and teaches a moral lesson. The company that will present "Down by the Sea" is an unusually large and powerful one; the scenic effects are not only magnificent but very elaborate, and comprise some of the most artistic stage pictures ever produced.

The appearance of Lottie Blair Parker's delightful play "Under Southern Skies" is an event that should be looked forward to with interest by our theatregoers.

The company is a large one, numbering twenty-seven people. The scenery is beautiful, everything used in the representation, being carried by the company. The costumes are quaint and pretty, the gowns being of airy summery stuffs, made in the fashion of 1875, which is the period of the play. A Halloween celebration during which a pumpkin dance is introduced, is one of the lively features of the performance, and never fails to delight an audience. Beautiful southern melodies are introduced throughout the play with great effect. The story of the play is both strong and interesting, and is relieved with much comedy which is contributed by the dainty servants and by their masters and mistresses, who are of the Southern aristocracy.

"Under Southern Skies" is one of the big successes of recent years and no one who enjoys a first class play, presented in a first class manner, should fail to see "Under Southern Skies" at Myers Grand on the 17th.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News

San Francisco, October 26th. To Peoples Drug Co., and King's Pharmacy.

Dear Sirs: There are daily occurrences in this city that ought to be known all over the world. A guileless, old gentleman, an octogenarian, a distant relative of Robert Fulton, of first steamship fame, has saved the lives of hundreds (probably thousands) after they were believed to be beyond human aid. His discovery is undoubtedly the long-sought cure for Bright's disease and diabetes.

This is not easy of belief and it is the purpose of a number of business and professional men of this city (of whom I am one) to tell the people. You are hereby authorized to tell all those in your city who have either Bright's Disease or Diabetes that nearly nine-tenths of them can recover. Among the business men who are giving moral and financial support and who would give neither if the above was not strictly true, are Hon. D. M. Burns, President Cantelaria Mining Company; Edward Mills President of Bullock & Jones Company; Captain Roberts, President Boca and Loyall R. R. Co.; Thos. Kirkpatrick, Capitalist; D. B. Bender, Capitalist; W. C. Price, Capitalist; Wm. Sharp, Capitalist; C. W. Clark, Capitalist, and many others. The pamphlets herewith are to be given to all inquiries without charge. They give the complete history of our long and exhaustive investigation.

Yours truly, A. E. SHATTUCK, President Pacific States Type Foundry.

MRS. KLEIN HAS STARTED SUIT

She Wants Damages from Husband's Parents for Alleged Alienation of Affections.

Mrs. Letitia Baldwin-Klein, formerly of Clinton, who was married four months ago and has been residing in Louisville, Ky., has returned home. She has begun suit against her husband's parents for $50,000 damages for alienating his affections. T. D. Woolsey, one of Mrs. Klein's attorneys, has recently been informed by Mrs. Klein's Louisville lawyer that the court had granted the wife $26 per month temporary alimony, pending the trial of her case. A paragraph from the letter received by Mr. Woolsey, from the southern lawyer reads as follows: "We have given personal attention to learn the standing of this Klein family by careful inquiry from neighbors and associates, and we find not one good word said of any of them except the northern bride, Mrs. Letitia Baldwin-Klein, of whom all speak in the highest terms." This shows that Mrs. Klein has the sympathy of not only her friends in Clinton but in the south as well. She was taken from her home to a strange place, and then apparently treated with the utmost contempt by her new relatives. It is alleged that conditions were entirely misrepresented to her. Mrs. Klein will remain at her home in Clinton until the hearing of the trial.

Christian Scientists Coming
A small army of Christian Scientists of Rockford will come to this city Friday afternoon to hear the lecture at the opera house on the subject of their religion. Bicknell Young of Chicago will be the speaker and he has made a thorough study of the subject and gives an interesting talk. The lecture will be free and a good attendance from this and surrounding cities is expected. The Forest City delegation will come on a special car.

Hard Play at Madison
Hard, fast scrimmage practice was given the varsity team at Madison yesterday for twenty minutes, and although the first team outplayed the scrubs and made one touchdown on straight football, the seconds tied the score on a fluke. Cecil Schreiber, who was at quarter on the second team, getting the oval on a fumble and running forty yards for a touchdown. The play of the team was good, in spite of the fact that only a few regulars were in the lineup. Vanderboom, Peterson, and Wra-betz started in the scrimmage, but all three were injured before much had been done and went back to the "gym." Vanderboom turned his weak ankle and Peterson wrenched his shoulder. In the line Chamberlain went in at guard, but was forced to give it up on account of his weak knee. Remp, Fogg and Abbott were the only other regulars in the lineup, and the rest being kept out until they recover from their bruises. After the first set of backs went on the varsity Burkhardt, Perry and Robinson were put in. Perry made the only score for the regulars by going through the scrub line and running a good distance for a touchdown. Burkhardt played a good game and made several good runs. Clark, the Nebraska man, was transferred from full to halfback on the scrubs and did good work in the new position. Scofield and Franzke played the other back field positions on the second team.

FALLS FROM TURRET OF SHIP

Lieutenant Beecher of the Battleship Maine Is Killed.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 4.—Lieut. Albert M. Beecher, ordnance officer of the battleship Maine, fell from the forward turret to the handling-room, a distance of forty feet, and died an hour later without regaining consciousness. At the time of the accident the battleship was off Gay Head, en route for Menemsha Light, to engage in target practice. Lieut. Beecher was examining articles of ordnance when he lost his balance and pitched headforemost through the turret to the handling-room. News of the officer's death was communicated to Admiral Chadwick by wireless telegraphy and the battleship was turned about and started for Newport. Lieut. Beecher's home was at Fort Dodge, Kas. His brother is attached to the training-ship Monongahela as paymaster.

TRUST COMPANY WITHDRAWS

Lack of Capital Forces It to Enter Voluntary Liquidation.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 4.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the United States Trust Company it was decided that as the demands of a profitable business require a larger capital than the company now has and the times are not propitious for increasing the capital the company will go into voluntary liquidation. The amounts owing to the depositors aggregate $100,296, and this amount in cash has been especially set apart and appropriated to their full payment.

Rehearsals of the high school orchestra show that the organization is going to be a credit to the school this year as the work accomplished has been unusually good for so early in the season. There are now eighteen members and attendance at the rehearsals has been excellent this fall. The rehearsals are held weekly at the high school building and Mrs. Hyde is director of the club. Their first date so far is December first, when they will play at the Rock county teachers' convention.

Extraordinary Shoe Sacrifice...

Closing out of a new line of Ladies' $5, $4 50 and $4 shoes at

$3.00 For Choice

There is every reason to believe that this entire stock of new Fall Shoes which we offer at a sacrifice will be closed out quickly. We absolutely will not handle the line in the future, and the slash we have made in price is convincing argument of our intention. The story is simple—goods that were ordered for delivery in September have only just arrived, two months late. Rather than have them returned the manufacturer allowed a liberal discount, and we give you the benefit of their loss.

These Shoes are as Staple as Gold.

Every pair is new Patent Colt, Patent Leather, Vici Kid, Enamels Both lace and button, the chance for a bargain of the season.

Sixty pair $3 00 Shoes $2.35 These were to sell at $3 and are go at ..... a part of the same line.

Of Mutual Advantage

We want to impress upon you this fundamental fact. Every dollar you spend over our counters is spent to our mutual advantage. A modest, reasonable and just profit is ours. To you belongs the satisfaction of knowing that you are buying the best merchandise that the price can produce. Often, yes, very often, we get an opportunity to purchase strictly first-class goods at much below their normal value. These trade turns are much to your advantage. No matter how little we pay, we exact only the modest profit—the saving we feel belongs to you.
